

TERRIBLE TURK BEATS JENKINS

American Is No Match for the Mohammedan in Wrestling.

NEW YORK, November 26.—Isaiah Mahmoud, the newest of the terrible Turks to wrestle in this country, defeated Tom Jenkins, former champion wrestler of America in a catch-as-catch-can contest at Madison Square Garden to-night, the best two out of three. Mahmoud won in straight bouts, throwing Jenkins the first time in 22 minutes and 40 seconds, with a quarter Nelson and catch hold. He won the second bout more easily, putting Jenkins to the mat in 7 minutes and 20 seconds. The Turk gained his second victory with a double Gracie and barlock hold.

Throughout the contest Mahmoud showed his superiority over the Cleveland man. The dangerous strange hold was not barred in the match, but neither wrestler appeared to try to use it. The crowd of about 3,000 witnessed the performance.

Jenkins admitted after the bout that Mahmoud was the best man he had ever been pitted against. Mahmoud is very much heavier than Jenkins.

OUT OF SANATORIUM.

Woman Appears in Court, Wearing a Sheath Gown.

BRIDGEPORT, CONN., November 26.—Mrs. Alice C. R. Peirce, a New York woman, who said she was detained forcibly in a sanatorium in Westport, brought habeas corpus proceedings through counsel, and there was a hearing to-day.

Counsel for the parties got together and a settlement was reached. It was agreed that Mrs. Peirce should be released, and she has consented to enter another institution. The petitioner is handsome, wealthy and an accomplished horsewoman.

When she appeared in court this morning Mrs. Peirce was accompanied by Miss Adele Ritchie, an actress, and other feminine friends, and one of these wore a sheath gown. It was said there were so many sensational details in connection with the case that to avoid scandal it was deemed best not to have an open hearing. Everything was done with the greatest secrecy.

Madden Defeats Carey.

SAVANNAH, GA., November 26.—Frankie Madden, of New York, to-night won the decision over Tommy Carey, of Philadelphia, after their bout had gone the scheduled fifteen rounds. The contest was before the Southern Athletic Club, and was the last of those arranged for the automobile week. Madden had weight on Carey, and it was that which proved him the best man. Carey exhibited more cleverness, but was lacking in strength.

VANDERBILT AND SEWANEES TIED

Tennessee's Two Best Teams Played to Standstill in Nashville.

NASHVILLE, TENN., November 26.—Vanderbilt and Sewanee played each other to a standstill this afternoon on Dudley Field, the game ending 6 to 6, each team scoring a touchdown and kicking a goal.

In the first half Morrison, Vanderbilt's quarter, grabbed up a muffed punt and raced over the goal line. In the second half Line, Sewanee's quarter, caught a long punt by Blake, and with fine interference, ran sixty-five yards to a touchdown.

Both teams played hard, fast ball, and were fairly well matched. Each tried for goals from placement two or three times, but the ball went wild. After Sewanee's score was made Vanderbilt was largely on the defensive. The game was mostly straight football, forward passes and new plays cutting almost no figure.

WOMEN STARVE.

Monks of Aged Mrs. Casson Led to Their Discovery in Deserted House. NEW YORK, November 26.—Exhausted by a long tramp looking for relatives, Mrs. Sarah Casson, sixty-one years old, and her daughter, Mrs. Mary Doran, thirty-nine years old, crawled into a deserted house at Macomb's Road and Inwood Avenue Sunday, and, too proud to beg, remained there without food until the monks of the elder woman attracted attention yesterday.

Mrs. Kate O'Brien, who lives a block away, found the sufferers semi-conscious. They said they had lived above Yonkers, and Mrs. Doran's husband had deserted her. With all the money gone, they started for New York to seek relatives living somewhere near One Hundred and Sixty-ninth Street and Third Avenue. After crawling exhausted into the house, they lay upon the floor. They dreaded the thought of begging, and put it off until they were so weak they could not leave the place.

Dr. Reilly, of Fordham Hospital, said the women were suffering from starvation and exhaustion. They were hurried to the hospital and wrapped in warm blankets. The surgeon thought they would recover.

INJUNCTION DISSOLVED

Judge Waddill Sets Aside Document in Hamilton Gas Conspiracy Cases. On motion of certain petitioners, Judge Edmund Waddill, Jr., in the United States Court, late yesterday afternoon dissolved an injunction formerly issued to prevent the owners of $100,000 of bonds of the Hamilton Gas Company from parting with them. A motion was made for the removal of George Whitestone, of Philadelphia, one of the receivers of the company, but

KEEP UP RACING IN NEW ORLEANS

Result of the First Day of Meet Is Highly Satisfactory.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., November 26.—Following the events of the first day of the Louisiana Riding and Driving Club ninety-day meet, officials of the organization to-night declared themselves highly pleased with the results, and said they now felt certain that racing would be carried on in New Orleans throughout the entire winter. Supporters of racing claim that there are no laws in Louisiana which prohibit betting between private individuals, and this form of betting was largely practiced to-day.

A large detachment of police was present at the track, under strict orders to prevent any violations of the law. No arrests were made.

FORESAW AIRSHIPS

"Who Are They That Fly Like Doves?" Asks Prophet.

BERLIN, November 26.—Looking ahead through the centuries and, perhaps, looking upward, too, the prophet Isaiah clearly foresaw Count Zeppelin soaring through space in his dirigible balloon.

So at least asserts no less an authority than the Deutsche Lehrer Zeitung, the learned organ of Germany's wise school teachers. It contains a remarkable article seeking to prove that the prophecies of the ancient Jewish leaders are being fulfilled daily now; that the writers of the Old Testament, inspired or not, saw into futurity and surely foretold what would come to pass.

For instance, the Lehrer Zeitung quotes a verse from the sixteenth chapter of Isaiah's splendid poem:

"Who are those that fly as a cloud and as doves to their windows? Surely the ladies shall wait for me, and the steeples of Tarshish first to bring their sons from afar their gold and silver with them, unto the name of the Lord thy God."

The prophet is describing the future glory of the church; or, as he calls it, Zion, and foretelling how in the future the nations of the earth from the most distant lands will flock around the church and do her homage.

But "who are they that fly as doves" to the windows of their cotter? Plainly, the school-teachers are informed Count Zeppelin is one of them; his window is the entrance to his huge balloon shed on the shore of Lake Constance.

"In the passage quoted," says the Deutsche Lehrer Zeitung, "is a palpable reference to Zeppelin, and there can be no doubt that in the very near future people will fly to church in their aerostats like a cloud and like doves to their windows. They will never be able to fly with wings, for a physiology is against that hypothesis; therefore, Zeppelin was distinctly in the prophet's mind. Equally plain is the prophet's reference to the ships of Tarshish. It is an unmistakable allusion to the great German fleet of the future."

UP TO TAFT

President Will Let Successor Choose Next Commissioner of Immigration.

WASHINGTON, November 26.—The long delay in the appointment of a Commissioner of Immigration to succeed the late Frank Sargent is understood to be due to the fact that President Roosevelt really intends to leave the selection to President-elect Taft, and that Mr. Taft is not ready to make his recommendation.

The President intends to appoint a labor leader as commissioner if he can find a suitable man in labor ranks to accept the place. He took the same ground when he selected as commissioner Frank Sargent, then grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen.

President McKinley picked a labor man in T. V. Powderly, who had been grand chief of the Knights of Labor. Mr. Powderly is now at the head of a special bureau of the Immigration Department, and has been talked for his former post as head of the establishment. It is stated on pretty good authority, though, he will not be named.

Recognition of Labor. Mr. Taft is likely to pick out some active labor leader who did good work for the Republican ticket in the last campaign. The reference of the appointment to Mr. Taft is with the object not only of permitting a recognition of labor's support of the Republican party, but because the new appointee will have to serve under the next administration, which is close at hand.

Timothy Keefe, head of the Longshoremen's Union, has been talked for the commission. During the campaign it was declared he already had been offered the place. He denied this at the time.

Keefe was a vice-president of the Federation of Labor until the recent meeting of the organization at Denver. Another man was elected then to the position as a rebuke to Keefe for his opposition to the policy of Samuel Gompers in favoring Bryan.

On the serious trouble about appointment of Keefe, or any other man who openly fought Gompers and his policy in the last campaign, will be that the Federation of Labor will fight his confirmation in the Senate.

Men Who Will Not Accept. There are labor leaders whom the President would be glad to name, but who will not accept. Grand Chief Stone, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, is one of these. He prefers his present place, however, and can hardly be induced to take a Federal post.

P. H. Morrissey, grand chief of the railroad trainmen until a short time ago, is another. He is now at the head of a business college, and pays him $15,000 a year, and couldn't afford to leave that.

Besides labor leaders considered by both the President and Mr. Taft, the President is weighing the availability of several attorneys for labor unions. He believes these men, who they have confidence of the labor bodies they represent, may be of great value in holding down radicalism and in aiding the labor people along conservative lines.

Frank Hitchcock is in Hot Springs, and will tell Mr. Taft about the work done by a number of labor leaders. He knows more as to what some of them actually accomplished than any other man.

FIRE AT RACER.

Militia Allowed No Infringements Whatever on Racing Rules. SAVANNAH, GA., November 26.—Rene Hanriot, driver of the Benz machine that finished fourth, was involved in an affair that occurred after the finish that gave an illustration of the firmness with which the military that guarded the course acted. Official word was given at the judge's stand that the race was over, and the police who were guarding a portion of the course were so advised.

Guarding another stretch, however, were members of the Chatham Artillery. Hanriot sent his car up the course in the opposite direction to that in which he had been racing.

CLEVER WIFE

Knew How to Keep Peace in Family.

It is quite significant, the number of persons who get well of alarming heart trouble when they let up on coffee and use Postum as the beverage at meals.

There is nothing surprising about it, however, because the harmful alkaloid in coffee—caffein—is not present in Postum, which is made of clean, hard wheat.

"Two years ago I was having so much trouble with my heart," writes a lady in Washington, "that at times I felt quite alarmed. My husband took me to a specialist to have my heart examined."

"The doctor said he could find no organic trouble, but said my heart was irritated from some food I had been accustomed to eat, and asked me to try and remember what disagreed with me."

"I remembered that coffee always soured on my stomach and caused me trouble from palpitation of the heart. So I stopped coffee and began to use Postum. I have had no further trouble since."

"A neighbor of ours, an old man, was so irritated from drinking coffee that his wife wanted him to drink Postum. This made him very angry, but his wife secured some Postum and made it carefully according to directions."

"He drank the Postum, and did not know the difference, and is still using it to his lasting benefit. He tells his wife that the coffee is better than it used to be, so she smiles with him and keeps peace in the family by serving Postum instead of coffee." "There's a Reason."

TURKISH WOMEN UNVEILED

They Are Lecturing and Writing for the Newspapers, London Suffragettes Hear.

LONDON, November 26.—The suffragettes' newspaper prints a letter from Dr. Mary Patrick, president of the Girls' College at Constantinople, recording the growth of Western manners among Turkish women. She says that they have thrown off their veils and are lecturing in different prominent cities like Constantinople and Salonica, and are also forming women's clubs.

One of these women, Halide Salih, is especially prominent. She has been asked to write for every newspaper in Constantinople. Her patriotic and impassioned articles are the feature of the Tannin, an unofficial government organ.

on the Bryan Street front of the lot for a piggery, and into this the little girl wandered with her older sister, Minnie, and their dog.

They trod on matches left lying carelessly on the floor by the boys, which set fire to a quantity of excelsior.

The resultant flames at once overwhelmed the smaller girl, while her elder sister ran to the home to call the mother. So intense were the flames that Mrs. Hetzer could do nothing to save her child, and she herself was badly burned on the hands and face.

The little girl lived only half an hour after being rescued. The dog perished in the flames.

MAGNESS ON PRISON SHIP NOW.

Son-in-Law of Late Sen. Gorman, Who Deserted from Navy, Begins Sentence.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., November 26.—Charles J. Magness, alias C. J. Magness, son-in-law of the late United States Senator Arthur P. Gorman, of Maryland, began to-day his sentence for desertion from the navy. He is now wearing the gray garb among hundreds of other prisoners on the United States prison ship Topeka at Portsmouth Navy Yard. He was sentenced at Philadelphia last week.

His wife is expected in Portsmouth soon, and will make her home there in order to see her husband as often as the prison rules will allow. He can reduce his sentence from one year to eight months by good behavior, and if he can do the work of a yeoman or mechanic he can lessen it to six months.
